Welcome to CMS

Citations are an important part of successful academic writing

- They let readers know that your arguments and claims are backed by reliable research sources.
- They also provide your readers information that may be useful for their own research
- When writing citations and references, the goal is to provide enough information so that your readers can find the same sources.

For some Film Studies, Asia and History courses at Alexander College instructors will ask you to use CMS (Chicago Manual of Style) for paper writing and citations.

This is a Quick Guide to CMS academic papers and citations.

- It contains information on the basic formatting elements for CMS Style papers
- It contains sample footnotes and bibliography entries for the resources most commonly used by students in the sciences and social sciences at Alexander College.

Failure to correctly cite your sources will result in a '0' for your papers and an academic alert.

CMS Basics: Formatting

Paper Formatting

Use an easy to read 12 point size font.

- Paper size: "Letter", NOT A4.
  - Margins: 2.54 cm (1 inch)
  - Body paragraphs: 1st line indent of 1.27 cm (.5 inches).
  - Bibliography: Hanging indent of 1.27 cm (.5 inches).
- Double-space the body of your essay.
- The following sections of your paper are single-spaced:
  - Block quotations
  - Footnotes
  - Table titles
  - Figures captions
  - Bibliography
    - Leave a blank line between each entry.
- Pages should be numbered, flush to the upper right-hand corner of the paper.

Title Page

A paper commonly begins with a title page.

- Your title should be centred a third of the way down the page.
- Several lines down:
  - Your name
    - Your instructor may also request that you add your student #
  - Course number and name
    - E.g.: Philosophy 100: Knowledge and Reality
  - Date handed in.
  - The title page is NOT numbered.

Formatting Block Quotations

- When you are including a quote that runs five or more lines it must be blocked.
- Blocked quotations are single spaced, indented on the left margin by 1.27 cm (0.5 in.).
- Omit the quotation marks.

Example:

Granatstein argues the notion that having a well-equipped military to defend our country is essential because:

... there will always be wars. Thus Canadians either pay for their defence with dollars now or with lives later. The lack of realism, the sense that Canada has only values and no national interests to defend, or at least none we think about, has always meant we are unprepared. We all have fire insurance on our homes against the small chance of a fire, but we refuse to have the national insurance policy that a well-equipped, well-trained military provides. Canadians have never been and are not prepared now. And we will pay in lives yet again.<sup>1</sup>

Abbreviations in CMS

- In both your footnotes and bibliography, avoid using abbreviations.
  - Use the full names of the authors, publishers, and months of the year.
  - Use the word 'and' between names; do not use the & symbol.

Some abbreviations are acceptable:

- Words such as The, Inc., Ltd., and Co. may be omitted from the publisher's name or the name of a newspaper.
  - E.g.: Greystone Books Ltd., may be listed as Greystone Books
    - The Vancouver Sun may be listed as Vancouver Sun.
- In footnotes:
  - ed. may be used for editor
  - ed. is also used for 'edition'
    - '2nd ed.', or 'rev. ed.' for revised edition.
  - trans. for translator.
  - comp. for compiler.
- In the bibliography these terms should be written out in full:
  - edited by
  - translated by
  - compiled by
- 'ed.' may still be used for 'edition'.
  - E.g: '2nd ed.', or 'rev. ed.' for revised edition.
- For additional help, see a sample CMS formatted paper on the Purdue OWL website: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/717/11/>

Figures and Tables

- Figures are graphs, diagrams, illustrations or photographs.
- Tables present data in rows and columns.
- Tables and figures must be referred to and explained in the body of your essay.
  - Refer to tables and figures in your essay as Table 1, Figure 1, etc.
  - Tables and figures should be placed immediately after the paragraph in which they are mentioned.
- Each table should have a number and a short description in a line flush left above the table
- Every figure must have a number and caption in a line flush left below the figure.
  - The word 'figure' may be abbreviated to 'fig.'
- Both tables and figures must be cited with a 'source line' under the table or figure.
- If you have changed the source material in any way, such as removing certain entries, you must note this by using a phrase such as, data adapted from . . .

- A full citation must also appear in your bibliography.

Citing Your Sources

You must put your citations in two places in your paper:

1. Cite your sources in the body of your essay with footnotes
  - These appear in the footer of each page where the cited information occurs
2. You must also include a complete alphabetical list of all your sources on a separate page at the end of your paper.
  - This is called the Bibliography

Footnotes: the Basics

- You must include footnotes for:
  - Specific words — these should be in “quotation marks”.
  - Summaries and paraphrases of the ideas of another writer.
  - General ideas or concepts of another writer.
    - Or a particular line of argument, even if you are adding to that line of argument.
- Footnotes appear at the bottom of the page in which a source is cited.
  - They are single-spaced and the first line is indented 1.27 cm or ½ inch.
  - We do NOT recommend using “Insert Citation” or other citation generation software as they are frequently incorrect in their formatting.
  - Please note: the citation information on the AC library database refers to the bibliography, not footnotes.
- In footnotes, each element (author, title, etc.) is separated by a comma
  - Authors’ names are NOT inverted.
  - If no author is identified, use the title of the source.
  - Leave one blank line between footnotes occurring on the same page.
  - The information in a footnote will vary, depending on the type of source you are using.
  - It is YOUR responsibility to ensure footnote content is correct.
- In MS Word, use the “Insert Footnote” function on the References tab.
  - A superscript number is inserted in the text of your paper.
  - The program will immediately take you to the footer of the page to insert the correct citation information
    - Double-check your paragraph settings so the footnotes are first-line indented 1.27 cm or ½ inch.

Footnote superscript in your essay:

Mama Ramotswe did not think that it would be easy to open a detective agency.

“People always made the mistake of thinking that starting a business was simple ... [but it] ...

was always more difficult than you thought it would be.”<sup>1</sup>

Superscript #

Footnote at the bottom of the same page:

1. Alexander McCall Smith, The No. 1 Ladies’ Detective Agency (New York: Anchor Books, 2002), 60.

All sources cited in your footnotes must be listed in the bibliography.

Consecutive Quotes: What does “Ibid.” mean?????

- The first time a source is cited, enter the full information in the footnote.
- If the same reference is cited again immediately after, with no sources being cited in between:
  - Use the word ‘Ibid.’ to indicate it is the same source, then enter the page number.
- If the source has been cited once and you have cited another source or sources in between:
  - Cite the author’s full name, the title of the article or book, and the page number.

Example:

1. Jacqueline Park, The Secret Book of Gracia dei Rossia, (New York: Simon and Schuster Paperbacks, 1997), 65.
2. Ibid.
3. Ibid., 77.
4. Go Ask Alice (New York: Simon & Schuster, 1971), 6.
5. Jacqueline Park, The Secret Book of Gracia dei Rossia, 66.

Bibliographies: the Basics

- The bibliography is the complete list of all the sources used in your paper.
  - The Bibliography is NOT a list of your footnotes.
  - It is placed on separate pages at the end of your paper.
- Sources in the bibliography are listed alphabetically.
  - They are NEVER numbered.
- A sample Bibliography page appears on pages 23-24 of this guide.
- The entire Bibliography is single-spaced, with a hanging indent of ½” or 1.27 cm.
  - Centre the word Bibliography at the top of the page; leave one blank line before starting the entries.
  - Leave one blank line between each entry.
- If there is no author identified, use the title.
  - When the title of a work begins with an article (A, An, The) use the first significant word to determine its place in the list.
    - E.g. the film, The Hunger Games would be listed under ‘H’.
- Sources are listed in alphabetical order by the author’s last (family) name.
- If one author has written several of the sources, replace the author’s name with a 3-em dash (———.)
  - To do this, hold Ctrl+Alt+the - sign on the number pad.

Example:

Danton, Robert. "An Early Information Society: News and the Media in Eighteenth-Century Paris." American Historical Review 105, no. 1 (2000): 1-35.

———. The Devil in the Holy Water or the Art of Slander from Louis XIV to Napoleon. Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press, 2010.

Works With More Than 1 Author

In Footnotes and Bibliographies

- List the authors in the order their names appear on the source.
  - Do not change the order of the names.

2 or 3 authors: All authors must be listed in footnotes and the bibliography.

Four to ten (4-10) Authors:

Footnotes:

- List the first author's name and the phrase 'et al.' to replace the names of the additional authors.

Bibliography: all names must be listed in the bibliography.

Example:*Authors on Book Cover:

Harry J. Potter, Ron Weasley, Neville Longbottom, Seamus Finnigan, Dean Thomas, Colin Creevey, Ernie Macmillan, Justin Finch-Fletchley, Zacharias Smith, and Anthony Goldstein.

Footnote:

2. Harry J. Potter et al., Dumbledore's Army: A History, (Hogsmeade: Magical Press, 2010), 11.

Bibliography:

Potter, Harry J., Ron Weasley, Neville Longbottom, Seamus Finnigan, Dean Thomas, Colin Creevey, Ernie Macmillan, Justin Finch-Fletchley, Zacharias Smith, and Anthony Goldstein. Dumbledore's Army: A History. Hogsmeade: Magical Press, 2010.

More than 10 (10+) Authors:

- Footnotes: List the first author's name and the phrase 'et al.'
- Bibliography: List the full names of the first seven authors, followed by 'et al.'

Example:

Authors on Book Cover:

Hermione Granger, Ginny Weasley, Luna Lovegood, Hannah Abbott, Pavarti Patil, Katie Bell, Padma Patil, Susan Bones, Demelza Robbins, Lavender Brown, Angelina Johnson, and Alicia Spinnet.

Footnote:

3. Hermione Granger et al., Herstory: The Women of Dumbledore's Army, (Hogsmeade: Magical Press, 2011), 12.

Bibliography:

Granger, Hermione, Ginny Weasley, Luna Lovegood, Hannah Abbott, Pavarti Patil, Katie Bell, Padma Patil, et al. Herstory: The Women of Dumbledore's Army. Hogsmeade: Magical Press, 2011.

Before you Begin:

- Correctly identify what type of source you are citing.
  - Is it web-based?
    - Is it a web site or an online database?
  - Is it print?
    - Is this written by 1 author or several authors writing together?
    - Is this an edited collection (anthology)?
- Who is the author or authors?
  - Note the author's or authors' first and last names.
    - Always, always list a source by the authors' names.
      - For sources without an identified author, use the title.
- For all web sources, include the URL or DOI
  - Include your access date.

Once you know what type of source you are citing, look up how to cite that source by finding it in the Table of Contents at the beginning of this guide.

It is YOUR responsibility to make sure your footnotes bibliography contain the correctly formatted information.

Citing Online Sources

- English language websites ONLY.
  - Using non-English websites will result in an Academic Alert
- We recommend printing the material so that you have a hard copy to refer to.
- Use complete URLs when citing an online source.
  - Use the date of the last revision (if available) as your publication date.
  - Also include your access date.

Journal Articles From Online Databases

- We recommend using the Alexander College databases.
  - These sources will include stable URLs or DOIs as well as the necessary information for your footnotes and bibliography.
    - For help with the databases, please consult one of our librarians.
- If you plan to use other databases or websites, check with your instructor first.

Online Newspaper or Magazine

Names of Newspapers:

- Omit the word ‘The’ from the name of newspapers.
- With the exception of the Globe and Mail and the National Post, if a city name is not part of the newspaper’s title, it should be added.

News Services:

- News services, such as the Associated Press are capitalized but not italicized.
- They may appear as the author in the citation.

Legislation from Online Historical Archives

- Different types of legislation (constitutions, treaties, acts of Parliament, etc.) are often found in Government archives online.
  - Include the name of the archive/website in footnotes and the bibliography.
  - Include the publisher/owner for non-government archives.
  - Include the stable URL and your access date.
- In footnotes note the “Section” or “Article” of the legislation you are citing.
- In footnotes and the bibliography include:
  - The Title of the Legislations and year enacted.

FILMS

- Films are listed by their title, followed by the name(s) of the director(s).
  - Directors' names are NOT inverted.
- In both Footnotes and Bibliography, list the medium (version) of the film.
  - E.g.: DVD, Film (in theatre), Web.
- Include the original theatrical release date for ALL films, no matter the medium.
  - For films viewed in theatre, include the location and name of the production company.
  - For DVDs, include the date the film went to DVD and list the location and name of the DVD distribution company.
  - For online film sources, include your access date and streaming service name.
- In the Bibliography, if a film title begins an article (A, An, The), list the film according to the next word in the title.
  - E.g.: the movie, The Hunger Games, would be listed under 'H', not 'T'.

Citing Print Sources

- NEVER rearrange the order of names on any source.
  - Always list the authors in the order they appear on the cover of a book or at the first page of an article
- Print sources are cited by their authors.
  - Follow the rules for 1 or more authors found on pages 8-10.

Books: 1 or More Authors Writing Together

- Books are cited by their authors.
  - Follow the rules for 1 or more authors found on pages 9-11.
- The basic pattern for any print book is:

Footnote	15. S.R. Covey, The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People: Restoring the Character Ethic , (New York: Anchor Books, 1989): 45.
