VIVA LAS VEGAS!

There's no better way to end a semester than to celebrate with your friends. AC Vegas Night was created by ACSA and Student Life, ACSA worked closely with Student Life to create AC Vegas Night for students to have fun, make memories and destress. The party was extremely successful. Everyone enjoyed the food, music, talent show, and games. The demographic was very diverse and welcoming. Thank you to everyone who came to the party! We hope to develop more events like AC Vegas Night in the near future. Please keep an eye out for event posters around campus and check AC social media accounts for updates.

PERFECT WAY TO END
THE SEMESTER!!

Students really enjoyed
AC Vegas Night. If you couldn't make it, be sure to come to the next party!

How to survive Canadian Winters

Welcome to Canada! Canadian winters can be cold, and a little daunting if you aren't prepared. But there's nothing to stress about if you're informed, and ready to take on the cold. Here are some tips on surviving Canadian winters:

- Dress in layers. Layers trap your body heat inside and help keep you warm.
- Cover your entire body. Make sure you wear thick socks, a toque to cover your head, a scarf to cover your face, and gloves to keep your hands warm.
- Invest in a good pair of waterproof winter boots to prevent slipping and falling.
- Check the weather forecast before going outside. If you know what the weather and temperatures are going to be for the day, you can dress accordingly. Make sure you also check the school website for possible campus closures.

Please note that winter isn't something to be afraid of. It can be filled with fun outdoor activities like skiing, snowboarding, or just going outside to make a snowman and enjoying the environment.

FRANK ACSA PRESIDENT

Hello everyone. As you know I am the president of ACSA. I believe you guys met me on orientation. We as ACSA believe that a student should have a fantastic college experience. You must be thinking what she is trying to say. We always try to organize events to make you feel great. Being an international student myself I experienced some difficulties in the beginning but one can not stay low , I fought and now I am here to help you guys with anything and everything. I will strongly suggest no matter what happens in life be strong and fight with your problems.
