Opportunities Start With Who You Know

In a city like Vancouver, opportunities rarely come from applications alone—they come from people. Being intentional about where you show up matters: attend events, join communities, and put yourself in spaces where conversations can happen naturally. Stay curious when you meet others—ask questions, listen carefully, and focus on building genuine connections rather than immediate outcomes.

Relationships take time, but consistency is what sets you apart. Follow up, stay in touch, and be someone others remember for your attitude and reliability. The right environment can shift your trajectory, so choose spaces that challenge and inspire you. Over time, these connections often open doors you didn't even know existed.
